AN INTERESTING TANGLE.

If Mr. Williams had been a nominee for re-election at the time of his death the state executive committee could have filled the vacancy on the ticket occasioned by his death. But since he was not a nominee for the place his death vacated, the state executive committee is held to have no such authority. And yet no man can conceive a reason which makes the exercise of this authority wise in the one instance and unwise in the other, or why, if the committee may fill a vacancy on the ticket caused by the death or resignation of a nominee, it should not under identical circumstances fill a vacancy on the ticket caused by the death or resignation of an incumbent whose term extends beyond the time of the election. The question is not whether it is wise to confer this authority on the committee in either instance, but why it is wise in one and unwise in the other case. The legislature seems to have meant that the state executive committee should protect the party's interest in emergencies giving no time to consult the voters of the party, and that it made no provision for this particular emergency confronting the party is probably due to nothing more than its failure to conceive of the contingency that has arisen. If the interpreters of law were more concerned for the principles animating it and less for the letter, they would hold that the authority given in one case might be exercised in the other case, the essential circumstances being identical.—Galveston News.

In the meantime the complication grows and the Republicans are ticked, hoping through the confusion they may slip in their man.

In the mix-up Hon. C. E. Gilmore of Willis Point, a candidate for the place, has enjoined the state Democratic committee from substituting any other name on the ticket on the ground that same is not authorized by law, that he is a candidate and such action would injure his chances of election.

The executive committee met Thursday and shortly after assembling was served with the Gilmore injunction. Under advice of their attorney they endorsed as individuals, Hon. C. H. Hurdleston, recently appointed to the position by Governor Ferguson, and recommended his election to the Democracy of the state.
They also passed a resolution ordering his name substituted on the official ballot, provided the Gilmore injunction is not made permanent. The matter, if settled at all, will have to be settled within a very few days to comply with other legal requirements.

THE PRESIDENT AT OMAHA.

The trip of President Wilson to Omaha was one continuous ovation and has inspired the President himself and leading Democrats of the country with a stronger hope that he will sweep the Middle West. The President's address in Omaha was a marvel of constructive, nation-making funda-mentals and has rarely, if ever, been equaled by any statesman of this country. Following are a few of his concrete declarations:

"In order to carry out a program you must have unification of spirit in America. There can be no program without a unified course behind it."

"It is very important that the statesmen of other nations should understand America. We have held off from the conflagration in Europe because we wanted to play a different part."

"The causes of the European war are not plainly known."

"But Europe should understand us," he said. "We are holding off because when we use the force of this nation we want to know what we are using it for."

"There is as much fight in America as in any nation in the world."

"We want always to hold the force of America to fight for the rights of mankind, not for the rights of property. But in fighting for these things we should know what the touchstone is. We must have absolute allegiance to America. We must be truly American. The rights of humanity are the essence of freedom.

"We want all the world to know that we are ready to use all our force to maintain peace among mankind.
The starting of wars can never again be the private concern of any one nation."

"We must use all force, moral and physical, to uphold a league of nations, to uphold the peace of this world."

It is reported that Ambassador Gerard at Berlin is coming home on a special mission for Germany. That the imperial German government will ask President Wilson to intercede with the allies for terms of peace. The report is stoutly denied by the German embassy at Washington.

If you have not been in the habit of going to church, you should go tomorrow and see for yourself what a great church-going town Bryan is. All the churches are crowded on Sundays and all who come are warmly welcomed.
You would be, too.

The world's series opened today. Be careful how you place your money, because it's a long way off to pick the winner.

A few more speeches by Col. Roosevelt and the great American jury—the people—would re-elect President Wilson without leaving the jury box.

Bryan's automobile numbers are creeping up toward the "400" mark.

WISE AND OTHERWISE.

"You don't stay at home as much as you used to." "No," replied Mr. Meek-ton. "Society has its rights as well as the individual. It seems rather selfish of me to linger around the fireside and monopolize the conversation of so able and erudite a woman as Henrietta."—Washington Star.

Life is as tedious as a twice-told tale, Vexing the dull ear of a drowsy man.
—King John.

She—"If mamma consents to our engagement we needn't worry about what papa says." He—"I do hope the non-importance of the male member of the family is not an ingrained idea with you."—Boston Transcript.

The dutifulness of children is the foundation of all virtue.—Cicero.

"Is his word good?" "I don't know as to that. I've never taken his word for anything, but I've got four of his notes that weren't any good."—Detroit Free Press.

Soon the young men of the advertisements who have been about with colander underwear will be climbing into union suits, in which we will see somewhat less of them.—Toledo Blade.

Flubdub—"That's a bad cold you have, Guzzler. Are you taking anything for it?" Guzzler—"Thanks, old man, I don't care if I do."—Judge.

Charity Patient—"Doctor, is there any danger that the operation will prove fatal?" Doctor—"Really, my good man, considering that we are experimenting on you free of charge, your idle curiosity smacks of insolence!"—New York Morning Telegraph.

U. D. C.

The local chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, met in the chapter room at Carnegie Hall on Friday afternoon. The occasion was of more than usual importance, for it was the annual celebration of Reagan Day and also the regular election of officers for the coming year. The president, Mrs. W. G. Talliaferro, called the chapter to order at the appointed hour and Mrs. P. M. Rayson, historian, conducted the program of the day as follows:

Vocal Solo—"Garden of My Heart," Mrs. George Adams.

Paper—"In Memory of John H. Reagan," Mrs. Ralph Howell.
Instrumental Solo, Miss Frances Mike.

At the conclusion of the program the chapter was called into business session. The result of the election of officers was as follows:

Mrs. W. G. Talliaferro, president; Mrs. O. B. Love, first vice president; Mrs. H. G. Fulgham, second vice president; Mrs. R. H. Harrison, third vice president; Mrs. J. B. Stevenson, fourth vice president; Mrs. Walter J.
Higgs, recording secretary; Mrs. E.
W. Crenshaw, treasurer.

Delegates from L. S. Ross Chapter to the National U. D. C. convention which meets in Dallas November 7, and to the State convention in Corpus Christi December 5, were elected as follows:

Delegates—Mrs. W. G. Talliaferro, Mrs. H. C. Fulgham, Mrs. Mary Hunt
Affleck, Mrs. Ida Shepard, Mrs. Henry Cline.

Alternates—Mrs. O. B. Love, Mrs. Albert Buchanan, Mrs. Houston Cole, Mrs. W. J. Higgs, Mrs. Fred Taylor.

BOX FOR ORPHANS.

On Monday afternoon at the First Baptist church the ladies of the Aid Society will pack a box of winter clothing to be sent to the children at the Buckner Orphans' Home. All contributions should be at the church by 4 p. m.

Hart Schaffner & Marx Varsity Fifty Five

One name—many models

THE same general style-idea appears in many of these smart suits for young men, known as the Varsity Fifty Five models; but there are different variations of this idea.

It may be in the treatment of the pockets, or the back, or the sleeves, or the front; may be a difference in the waistcoat or in the shaping of the trousers.

But they're all Varsity Fifty Five; many styles under one name.

We'll show you a lot of them; you'll find the one that suits you.

$18.00, $20.00 and $25.00

$25.00 is a real economy price.
